■ James J. Kilcorse, Jr.

The students, staff and parents of DeVilbiss High School have lost one of the true friends of the academic world through the death of Mr. James Kilcorse, DeVilbiss High School Principal of Curriculum and Instruction.

Those who knew Mr. Kilcorse are well aware of his vast knowledge of subject matter and teaching techniques; of his obility to grasp the meaning of new ideas, new materials, and the thrust of new programs in our complex curriculum. Yet, Mr. Kilcorse found time to be in the halls, and classrooms, and took part in student activity life during his years at DeVilbiss.

Mr. Kilcorse had the ability to recognize the needs of our students, staff and community as he attempted to work towards the development of a total curriculum reflecting the desires of all segments of the DeVilbiss neighborhood communities.

Throughout his fifteen years at De-Vilbiss High School, Mr. Kilcorse was constantly striving to instill in students the ideal of our school, motto, "Finis Origine Pendet", (the end depends upon the beginning).

Student Government

Should We Rewrite The Constitution?

Changing the entire constitution brought a lot of discussion at several meetings. Tom Whelan made the "shocking" proposal. Students planned to form a committee to carry out this duty.

Spansoring activities took up a lot of time. Student Government planned all aspects of Homecoming and supervised the Candy Sale (Student Government officers loved sampling the products of 17 different candy companies!) The Magazine Drive and Club Carnival were other events.

February winter weather proved great for an ice-skating party. Student Government took advantage of the fact and held one for the whole school. Planting trees on the DeVilhiss compus was another and biss campus was another goal.

Toledo Area Student Council had several main projects; the March For The Bridge, Quiz Bowl, and Youth in Government Day, on February 28th. On this day, city council members, judges, and other important city government officials visited area high schools, making speeches and examining school policies.

Homecoming

Dance Sends Tads Sky High

"The location for the dance was stellar, but it would have been better if it wasn't so crowded."

Mr. Morris: "We were tremendously impressed by the way students conducted themselves at the game, before it, and at the dance."
"Took a lot from the game not having a crowd in the bleachers for the opposing team."

Only seven floots gathered at Ottawa Park for the pre-game parade to D.H.S. However, many decorated cars joined the parade.

During halftime the crowning of the queen took place. The announcer came on: "The court consists of: Karen Feldstein, Jann Veller, Julie Anderson, and (rolling of drums) Sarah Reiser! The 1973 Homecoming Queen is Barbaro Breno!"

After halftime, D.H.S. fans saw the Tigers put forth their greatest effort, stomping Dayton Roosevelt, 35-6.

"Stairway to Heaven," dance theme, proved to be THE HIGH of hamecoming. Two hundred ten people (or 105 couples) jammed the Crown Room of the Imperial Lones Bowling Alley to hear the music of "Shade Tree". At 12:00, some couples turned into pumpkins and went home. Others were night owls, bowling from 1:00 to 3:00 in the marning.

1. Drumming up support for the Tigers is Jan Krueger, a member of the D. H. S. band.
2. Three J.V.s are psyched as they cheer varsity, taking the places of court attendants.
3. "Right on Tigers!" scream the students as their number 1 team crosses the goal line for another touchdown.
4. Mr. K. Morris, principal, praves he is the team's greatest fan by shawing up to judge floats decked out in school colors. 5. Couples jive to the good vibes of the "Shade Tree" at the donce, "Stairway to Heaven".
6. Scareboard shows that at the end of the game, Tigers clinched another victory an the road to becoming city champs.
7. Befare the parade, Marilan Herman and Karen J. Michael get the C.O.E. float ready, which wan 1st place for the 2nd consecutive year.
8. Court of: Julie Anderson, Sarah Reiser, Barb Breno, Karen Feldstein, and Jann Veller smile for C. Paul Kenny, phatographer.
9. After a wild ramp around the dance floor, Cheryl Minor stops to hove her date fix her carsage, 10. Besides being hanored with the title of Homecoming Queen, Barb Breno is also active representing DeVilbres an Lian Stare's Teen Board.

Commissioners Now Total 12

Bob Arquette headed the new Charity Commission. A Christmas Cheer Chorale Cancert and United Appeal Drive were some of his projects.

One of the zany new ideas thought up by Scott Snow was the "Spirit Rack", a one page article dealing with activities around the school Other ideas were a Senior Scrapbaak and toboogagning race through Ottawa Park.

and tobogganing race through Ottawa Park. Organizations Commissioner, Julie Anderson, stressed the need for club unity. At monthly club presidents meetings, she planned events that all the clubs could participate in, such as; a tobogganing trip, a tug-of-war, and a dance marathon. Dianne Skaff—Social Service, worked closely with Julie. She also kept records of club activities.

As Awards Commissioner, Kathy Begley gave awards during DeVilbiss Week, Candy Sale, and Magazine Drive. Heading these two drives was Melanie Pertcheck—Finance, who reported a profit of eighteen hundred dollars.

Other commissioners were: Mary Whipple—Athletics, Mark Buckley—Assemblies, Tom Whipple—Athletics, Mark Buckley—Assemblies, Tom Weissbrod—President of Student Council, Dave Rice—Vice President, and Johnnie Lloyd—Clerk of the Board

Students Escape The Blahs

(Deferred until next year)

Students who made Block History Week possible. Seated: Guy Douglas, Charles Peyton, Co-Choirman; Dwight Hunter, Stage; Pauletta Cooper, Winston Bizel, Joonne Boker, Co-Chairmon; Glenda Cooper, Johnnie Lloyd, Iva Brassfield, Keith Dobbins. Back: Debra Grant, Down Bornett, Corinthia Logan.

Students took a short break from the every day routine af school with a 5 day session of fun and learning called "Horizon Week." They learned subjects not regularly taught such as: bicycling, camping, witchcraft and photography. This program was discussed last year by the Student-Faculty Board. However, this year the Board had the job of carrying it out during the latter part of April.

Another idea the Board worked on was Independent Study.

Four classes of Human Relations were taught this year under the direction of Mr. Paluszok. Before, there was only one such class.

Human Relations is different from other subjects. To get an "A", you perform 21 volunteer services.

Some students put in time at St. Anthony's Villa, Toledo Hospital, and the Old Folks Home. Another volunteer service added this year was oiding teachers. Mr. Poluszak hoped this would bring about a better relationship between students and faculty.

"Birdie" Soars With Large Cast

Director, Mr. T. Bollin (foreground) goes all out in preparing the show.

"Sod Girls", Kim Wendt and Linda Weiss, run through their dance routine with Albert (Bob Rosenberg).

Everyone who tried out for "Bve Bye Birdie" was put in the show. Students who didn't land parts were accepted as extras or chorus members, making the largest cast in the history of musicals.

At least a hundred other students were involved planning make-up, printing programs, practicing lighting effects and pointing scenery. Props and scenery were included as classroom work for Mrs. Harrison's color desian class and those active in classes at Cotter. After several hours of work, unidentified rogues threw yellow point on scenery, which had to be painted over.

Two new directors appeared on the scene. Mr. T. Bollin was play director, while Mr. A. Anderson lead the music portion.

The first performance, a matinee, took place on December sixth. Freshmen and sophomores attending wore "We Love You Conrad" buttons for admission. The cast presented two more shows to full houses on Friday and Saturday nights.

Several problems arose in the play Saturdoy night: Conrad Birdie's zipper flew open in the middle of "You've Gotta Be Sincere" (which the audience responded to with much laughter) and Kathy Ness (Rose) badly sprained her ankle during the Shriner scene. But despite these problems, the show ended with a real send off—a standing ovation!

The McAffee Family (Joel Hazard, Tammy Cross, Dale Radunz and Cheryl Minor dream of stardom after hearing of their scheduled appearance on "The Ed Sullivan Show."

Mama (Miriom Leeper) smothers Albert (Bab Rosenberg) with love, as his girlfriend, Rosie (Kathy Ness) looks on angrily.

Conrad Birdie's (Rick Michael's) sex appeal overwhelms the Mayar's wife (Katie Craskery) in, ''You've Gotta Be Sincere.''

'Will you look at that!'' exclaim the Shriners as Rose (Kathy Ness) turns it on.

Kim (Cheryl Minor) brings down the house with ''How Lovely to Be a Woman.''

The excitement of romance proves too much for Hugo (Diskit London) in the scene, "One Special Boy."

DeViltries

"Passionella" Combines Old With New Ideas

Again this year, DeViltries experimented with new methods of production under the direction of Bob Rosenberg, Dale Radunz and Mr. T. Bollin. Some firsts in the history of DeViltries; an orchestra backed the pit band, there were no individual curtain calls, and all acts took place during the first half, with the play taking place during the second.

first half, with the play taking place during the second.

After a year's obsence the Usherettes once again danced down the aisle to cries of "M.O.G." from the stage crew and pit band. All octs followed.

The purpose of the first act was to show rehearsal for the play, "Passionella".

"Passionella" is the story of a chimney sweep who is turned into a movie octress by her fairy godmother. She wins on oscar for playing the role of a chimney sweep. Later she changes back to her original state, along with husband, Flip.

The show ended with the entire cast singing, "Another Openin', Another Show."

1. Chimney Sweep, Passionella (Gwen Waltz), talks with her employer (Scott Snow). 2. DeViltries chorus greets Passionella (Gwen Waltz) at the subway station. 3. Cheryl Minor sings, "Don't Rain On My Parade". 4. Flip (Rick Michaels) prepares to give Passionella on oscar for acting. 5. Director Wailingsford Hamilton (Ray Byers) gives instructions to star Elaine Carlton (Katie Croskery). 6. Swing Sisters; Rine Allison, Phyllis Jones, and Jackie Williams, harmonize to "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy". 7. "It's You!" Croons Stella C. Stardust (Gwen Waltz) as she meets Richard Actir (Rick Michaels). 8. Byron Richards narrates "Passionella". 9. Kathy Ness plays the freoky fairy godmother. 10. Usherettes pose during the dance "Cabaret".

Staff Jives With Times

Swimming, sunbathing, boating, water-skiing, and roasting hot dogs was the way the Pot O' Gold staff started off its year. Both old and new staffs spent the day at Bob Bules' cottage. The day ended when half the staff caught jiggers and itched the whole next week.

Editor, Jamie Fine, and Ads Manager, Bob Merritt, attended a week's Publication Seminar at Ohio University during the summer. They lived in dorms, attended classes, and learned new ideas for yearbooks.

Twenty-two students, the largest group ever, gathered at the Toledo Express Airport, bound for New York. Fogged in 8 hours and finally catching a bus to Cleveland for a flight out was only half the excitement they encountered. After arriving in New York, they enjoyed 5 days of sight-seeing, going to plays, and watching the first taping of a new T.V. show at NBC studios. The two day workshop at Columbia University sparked new ideas for yearbooking in the '70's which students brought back and put to use. To update the book, they decided to do away with many of the old rules and set only very loose ones.

The staff held a Christmas party where they exchanged gag gifts and feasted on cookies and ice cream. Along with the fun, long hours were spent working to meet deadlines.

At last in the plane after an eight haur wait, Laurie Thampsan, Martha Glaab and Samia Sugheir finish their camic book, "Anatomy". Above: "C'man dudes, this is our chance for stardam!" exclaim Laurie Jahnson, Bob Merritt, and Linda Weiss, as they watch the revolving camera in Times Square.

Advisor Mr. J. Blinn and Editar Laura Jacobs decide an events to cover in he next issue.

Laura Jacobs Heads Prism

Last year two people had the task of heading the Prism stoff, being co-editors, but this year it was different. What's the scoop? Laura Jacobs decided to brove it and lead the stoff single-handed. Under Mr. J. Blinn's and her guidance, the stoff doubled the output of newspapers compared to last year. Two foctors contributed to this achievement. A new room for the sole use of the Prism improved working conditions. The editor emphasized sharing responsibilities. Obstacles such as an insufficient number of typewriters and no place or proper equipment to develop pictures, hassled staff members, but obviously didn't keep them from obtaining quality.

Prism staff members, half of whom had taken Journalism I, traveled to Bowling Green University for a journalism workshop. They also toured the Blade. Professor Paul Ashdown, a guest speaker from T.U., spoke to them about considering journalism as a profession.

Page Editors, Karen Barn and Mary Whitman, help each other type and proof read their stories.

Summer heat fried Varsity Cheerleaders but didn't keep them from practicing. They devoted time weekly to perfecting new cheers and formations. At summer camp in Syracuse, Indiana the girls earned three first place awards, one second, and one third. They also received a "Spirit Stick" to display their ribbans.

A fantastic fall season left the girls in a daze after backing a great Tiger team all the way to the City Championship. Cheerleaders and players really "gat inta" orange and black knit hats purchased by the Athletic Office, wearing them proudly at the Shoe Bowl

The Varsity squad decorated school halls, visited players' homes leaving hand-made cards and signs of goad-luck, baked cakes for the different teams and gave them carnations before a big game throughout the fall and winter seasons. Besides treating the guys, they took Start Cheerleaders aut to lunch at Frisch's.

Cheerleaders, headed by a new advisar, Miss J. Kazmierski, held a clinic for eager Freshmen interested in cheerleading. The Varsity bought new white and black plaid skirts and bright orange bobby socks (instead of traditional white ones) with the profits.

J.V.s really had to dig down during the summer and get in lots of practicing since half the squad never cheered before. For Freshmen Cheerleaders, riding on a decorated car in the Homecoming parade really blew their minds!

Tigerettes—Pom-Pom Girls

Thirteen Girls Make The Wrestling Scene

Besides the five Tigerettes donning cheerleading outfits and cheering for the matmen, eight more girls supported them. New this year were the Mat Maids. Anyone interested in wrestling could become one. They got together and made signs, kept score and collected tickets at home matches, and gave wrestlers oranges.

Tigerettes spent time making goodie bags, signs, and cards for the wrestling team and gave each wrestler Gatorade after his efforts on the mat. These girls performed an acrobatic routine each quarter at football games and other stunts on the side lines. Before the Shoe Bawl game, the Tigerettes each made a card for every player and decorated his house, chalking wishes of good-luck.

Pom-Pom Girl try-outs took place early in the fall. Those chosen made up soul dances and routines to be performed at basketball games. During half-times, they got it together on the gym floor, entertaining the basketball fans. At the Senior Class Talent Show in January, the Pom-Pom Girl squad put on a dance show for the audience, earning a fourth place award.

DeVilbiss Week

Activities Limited To Three Days

Faculty members meditate before their quiz bowl team matches wits with the students' team.

Events this year had to take place in 3 days because of the Good Friday haliday and because of an in-service training day for teachers on Tuesday of DeVilbiss Week, April 8, 10, and 11.

On Monday, in one assembly Seniors received awards, in another, Sophamares and Juniars.

Publications and Organizations Day celebrated tagether on Wednesday. For the first time the Quill and Scroll Inductions affered a visual presentation to invited classes. Club members attending the second assembly watched the presentation of these awards: I-Da-Ka—"best social service club"; Peries—"best literary club"; Gospel Chair and German Club—"best special interest clubs". New club awards included the "most autstanding project", given to Senior Sorelles; "best service project", given to National Hanor Society; and the "most caurageous award", to Hi-Y.

Thursday, Faculty Day, the students confronted the teachers in a quiz bowl match, smearing them 510-250.

Honor Societies

D. H. S. Upholds High Standards

Although the National Honor Society's constitution nationally has been changed so that schools may decide their own standards for eligibility, D. H. S. has not changed. Students still must have a 3 point average and be in the upper 15% of their class. For the first time, the society had a club charter.

Tigers Trip Titans In Shoe Bowl

In Hard-fought Defensive Struggle

Recording the first shut out in the history of the Shoe Bowl, the Tigers with the advantage of a surprise play, and a strong defense, held St. Johns scoreless in a City Championship win.

Struggling in a defensive contest, the Tigers led by Jerry Blanton, set the Titon team on edge. Pressure built up by Farley Bell and Charles McCreary forced two interceptions in the game from St. John's quarterback, Dan Anderson.

The game's only score came early in the second period, when Terry Crosby took a pitch out from quarterback, Jan Rizza. Assisted with a key block by tackle, Jack McWilliam, he slipped around the left flank for a 60 yard touchdown.

For the first time in the history of DeVilbiss, the Tigers won the Shoe Bowl. And as Principal Kenneth Morris stated, "When all is said and done, Tigers are No. 1!"

Halfback Terry Crosby runs toward outside, avaiding Titan end.

Tigers' Determination Seals Success

Determined Bob Phillips leads Jerry Blanton in triple aptian play.

Tying Sandusky sparked the determination of the gridders. Even Central, one of the few teams that stapped our offense on the ground, fell before that determination.

Scott's defeat brought gloom, matching the gloomy day, and fear that our chances for winning the city championship were gone. The following week, though, the team chalked up a decisive homecoming victory over Dayton Rossevelt. With each victory, the pressure built up. Start, then Woodward fell before the Big Orange Machine. Finally—the Shoe Bowl!

What was different about this year? Coach Dale Pittman said that he and his assistants had done away with "pep talks." He alsa said, "We did not work any harder than in the past, we just emphasized different things." On the last practice befare a game, players ware complete gear. They abolished the tradition of wearing ties on the day of a game, letting each player wear what he wanted. Coach Pittman gave credit to the team members themselves, stating that the players not only got along with each other on the field, and in the lacker room, but also out of school.

Junior Varsity Falls Short

Though the Freshman Football Team earned only one victory for their record, very much interest was shown, and remained throughout the season. Starting practices in August, along with the Junior Varsity and Varsity teams, the kittens worked long hours to unite their team. Under the instruction of Cooch Dave Roberts, players copied the varsity, running the triple option play. "The outlook for next year is good, because the players worked together as a team," stated Coach Roberts.

From lack of interest, the Junior Varsity Football Team, many times, had players come down from the varsity squad. Playing a J.V. game on Thursday, and dressing Varsity on Friday was not an unusual scene for many team members. Teamwork was stressed. An old tradition came back, and games were held in the Page Stadium, instead of the practice field. Outstanding players included George West, Aaron Hale, John Stewart, and Lynn Dillard.

All alone, Jeff Lynch sets his position to succeed.

You A Lemon-Make Lemonade

Bruce Tapola sets a new, all-time city record, 9:55 in the second meet of the season.

Stu Davis broads over the team's disappointling finish in the district meet at Ottawa. defeats four Macmen.

This was the cry which the 1973 cross country team rallied around. They had a lemon of a season in 1972, finishing fourth in the city. The team was down on itself. But instead of crying over spilled milk, the runners decided to "make lemonade."

They decided to go to Beaver Island in Lake Michigan to train and relax for the upcoming season. During the week there the team cooked its own meals, went swimming in Lake Michigan, ran twelve to twenty miles a day, and slept under the stars.

When they returned, they were ready to take on their rivals: St. Johns and Bowsher. The Rebels were favored to win the city championship. Coach Tapola said, "If you come within six points of beating Bowsher, you will have a tremendous chance to take that city championship trophy home with you!"

Senior co-captains: Alan Wisebaker, Bruce Tapola, and Jymb Johnson provided leadership while Junior Doug Eble added valuable points to the team effort. Barb Miller became the first female runner in D.H.S. history. The younger runners, Sophomores Stu Davis, Mark Loman, and Rick Thielen developed as the season progressed just as Coach Tapola had hoped.

As the city meet rolled around, the team prepared itself both mentally and physically. The team received new black and yellow uniforms which were ordered for last season's track team. They arrived six months late, yet still added to their enthusiasm. Finally, D-Day arrived for the Tigers. DeVilbiss finished with three runners in the top six as they trounced the city league.

The season ended on a somewhat "sour" note with the team finishing a disheartening fourth place in the district. Only one member, Bruce Tapola, went on to the state championships.

Cross Country Team Plays Guns?

Did you ever wonder what hoppened when the cross country team went into the woods after a meet? The truth is the team played army! They began playing army at Beaver Island in their spare time and continued after they returned to Toledo. Pretending their sticks were guns, they would shoot each other and play deod. The rules were that if you were shot, you had to count to thirty before you could get up. The person who finished off everyone was declared the victor.

As the UCLA Bruins dominated collegiate basketball, the DHS chess team dominated Toledo chess. The team racked up a 26-0 record over two years. This year they wan the city championship hands down. Every team member finished the city playoffs undefeated.

Individual accomplishments abounded. Senior Phil Stern finished his second unbeaten season. Mike Gold lost his first match in 33 games, but retaliated by winning the John Beech Memorial Trophy, a tournament for the best city high school chess player. Bernie Scharfman and Tom Whelan both set new DHS records by winning matches in six moves. The previous record of ten moves was held by Phil Stern.

The chess team sponsored a pie throwing contest to earn money for their trip to the state championships. The cheering mob of students watched, while the administrators were targets for luscious cream pies. The team pocketed $65. During the state finals the team finished third, losing to two local Columbus Teams.

Friendship Inspires Teamwork

Growing friendship in the J.V. team was the key for their improved playing. The year also started with a new coach. Coach W. Oliver took over the position of J.V. Basketball coach with no previous experience in B.B. coaching.

The reserves showed all of what they were striving for in the game against Start, held at the T. U. Fieldhouse. They won this game in overtime when Larry Feldstein sank a foul shout with one second remaining.

A change from set plays to the shuffle offense demanded discipline and team work from each individual. It also gave the players experience for varsity play.

The team ended its season on a very successful note. The J.V. players feel that they have a full summer of hard work ahead of them.

Others turning in outstanding performances were Jessie Armstead in the shotput, and Bruce Tapola and Mark Loman in distance. Bruce achieved the honor of high point man for the season. Co-captains were: Bruce Haynes, Craig Davis, and Jessie Armstead.

Grapplers Log Tough Schedule

"You're either a hammer or a nail" was one of the mony signs inside the wrestling room to enthuse the wrestlers. The varsity schedule was as hard as nails as they struggled for a .500 seoson. The lower weight classes were much more inexperienced than the heavier classes, which caused them some difficulties.

A new coach entered the scene this year, Mr. Tom Talbot. The team had much respect for him as the season progressed. Coach Tolbot stressed drilling on techniques and takedown wrestling. Having been chosen Coach of the Year in 1971 for the Huron wrestling team and having coached at the Jr. Olympics, Coach Talbot arrived with much experience.

Outstanding performances marked the year. Bruce Germain finished in third place in the Sectionals and second in the District. Sam Bent achieved a first place in the Sectionals, while Bernie Zielinski finished second. Senior Mork Young lost a disputed motch in the city finals for a second place finish.

 Randy Brown, Laurie Johnson, Jim Maison, and Lynne Thampson take a ride on Jim's Suzuki. Students communicated by: working together to present programs such as Afro-American Week; learning to ski for the first time; riding in car pools to save energy; a mass celebration after the City Championship football game; practicing to perfect yourself in art and music; sticking it out with friends through the Exorcist; decorating lockers to celebrate a friend's birthday; meeting at the alleys after a bosketball game; gassiping for hours on the telephone; visiting beautiful Michigan an weekend nights; learning to love and respect each other.

Queen Crowned At Half-time

Afro-American Week began with the crowning of Queen Cheryl Minor and her court during half-time of the St. Francis bosketball game. Assemblies on Wednesday and Thursday of the following week concentrated on the history of Black Americans.

A movie starring Bill Cosby and an excellent performance from the Scott Jazz Band were the highlights of the assembly on Wednesday.

Thursday's assembly began with the presentation of the Queen and Court and a reading of the Queen's essay. A fashion show of African clothes, made by the students themselves, along with modern dances and singing from the Gospel Trio and Gospel Choir ended the program.

- 1. Tommy Cross begins her modern dance.
- 2. Poulo Huff adds spork to the fashion show.
- 3. Winston Bizel from Liberio strikes o pose.

- 5. Cheryl Powell spent long hours perfecting her dance performed at Thursday's assembly.
- 6. Rine Allison, Phyllis Jones, and Jacky Williams, otherwise known as the Gospel Trio, add song to Afro-American Week.
- 7. Newly crowned Afro-American Queen, Cheryl Minor with escort Renard Howard smiles proudly at the crowd.
- 8. Awaiting the announcement of the queen are: Cheryl Minor and escort Renard Howard, Karen Adams and escort Greg Campbell, Denise Cox and escort Charles Peyton.

End of School Day Brings Fun

What did kids do after the school day was over?

Sundays were spent playing football at Goddard field or playing at Ottawa Park.

Young Life meetings on Monday nights gave some a better insight to friendship and Jesus Christ.

Tuesday night was family night for eight DeVilbiss students who worked at Ponderosa.

Studying for those big tests on Friday took up most of the time on Wednesday and Thursday.

Friday and Saturday night, kids chased off to Michigan, then sprinted back to a D.H.S. basketball game. After the game, it was your choice of hitting McDonald's, Shakey's or Harry's. Imperial Lanes was a popular place to bowl, shoot pool and "hang out" especially after the City Championship football game!

- The Mighty F. Toboggan Team, the Pink Flamingos and the Italian Bobsled Team display their trophies after the exciting Great Toboggan Race.
- Putting in long hours of hard work, Bob Phillips earns money to pay for his college education.
- 3. Pay-a-el-sa members show enthusiasm by carolling at Christmas time.
- 4. Karen Whitcomb pulls on her skates at the Hi-Y skating party.
- 5. Members of the Bethany Church basketball team, Jay Reynolds, Jim Marsh, Scatt Reynolds, Larry Pollock, and Karl Litle look on encouragingly at their teammates.
- 6. Young Life swings on Monday night.
- 7. Dove Simrell takes time out from school to support the Old Newsboys Association.
- 8. Modelling is a part of Laurie Johnson's job on the Hudson's Teamboard.

Students Get It Together

- 1. Tom "Pigmy" Meyers relaxes with friends while shooting a game of pool.
- 2. A rainy day mokes it difficult for Noel Hazard to goin control of the soccer ball.
- 3. From steady observation, Marc Marian discovers many mistakes of his peewee hackey team.
- 4. A game of soccer of Imperial Lones becomes a new source of entertainment for Chris Walker and Jon Rizzo.
- 5. During the summer, Jay Reynolds finds enjoyment in John Veller's pool.
- The Army Vocational Test, held in November, gave Jeff Fitch and Cathy Lykins an opportunity to find out which field would be best for them.
- 7. Employed at McDonalds, Dove and Dione Skaff competed in a contest to become "All Americans" in buns and filets.

Credit Given To Talents

Not only does our school win in athletics and academics, it also achieves in art, music, and beauty.

For two years in a row, a DeVilbiss airl has won the title of Miss Toledo Teenager. For several years, more TADS have placed in the High School Workshop at the Art Museum than students from any other school. The music department has constantly received ratings of excellence in competitions.

- 1. Practicing between 3-5 hours daily, Mike Walsh attains the position of first flutist for the Toledo Youth Orchestra.
- 2. Angelique McForland was a winner this summer when she received the title of Miss Toledo Teenager. Here, she presents roses to the Afro-American Queen.
- 3. Denise DeClerq, Fran Rough, ond Mike Walsh, three of 15 students selected for the special High School Workshop at the Toledo Museum of Art, discuss one of Mike's paintings.

Focus on Individual Talents

After taking Art Fundamentals, students are now able to take various semester courses. According to their interests, they can choose life drawing and advanced drawing, commercial application and lettering, or ceramics and painting.

Color Design and Composition was an added, full year class. Students learned what color was about and how to use it better. This class did the scenery for "Bye, Bye Birdie."

Of the twenty-five paintings on exhibit at the First National Bank Show in November, six were chosen from Tads. They were Karen Born, Barb Breno, Julie Cobak, Brenda Nor-man, Joyce Pietras, and Neil Sperling. Karen received a First in the Oils Category and $40; Joyce was given Honorable Mention. At the Ówens Illinois Show, Ruth Lynch received First Purchase Award and $150, Denise Declera was awarded Second Purchase Award and $75.

Band Hosts City Wide Contest

Eight area bands displayed their talents at the Marching Band Festival held in the DeVilbiss stadium, October 10th. The Bowling Green State University Band came also. Candy Johnson, Band director at Spencer Sharples, was feature soloist with them.

Concentration on concert, marching, and classical type compositions proved productive for this year's members. An annual Spring concert was held in the auditorium in May to show their improvement. They also performed at the opening Mud Hens' game in April.

Mike Walsh and Dennis Lazenby were members of the All Ohio Band. They, along with John Pope, attended the Solo and Ensemble Contest at BGSU in February.

Tag days raised money to rebuild and replace instruments and equipment. A John Phillip Sousa Award was established by Mr. Anderson. It will go to the most outstanding Senior.

Have You Ever Found Love?

If ever a person asked
If I have found love
I will tell him
Yes I have.

If ever a person asked Where I have found love I will say to him In the people I have hurt.

If ever a person asked Why have the ones you have hurt loved you I would say to him They can understand, What I cannot understand about myself.

Silly Syntax

In the beginning, God created the present and the future. And God said, "Let there be linking verbs"; and there were linking verbs. And after much ado, God said, "Let there be modifiers in our infinitive." So God created modifiers in his own infinitive. And God named the modifiers Adverb and Expletive.

Adverb and Expletive lived in the Garden of Exclamation. God told Adverb and Expletive that they could eat the fruit of any sentence tree in the garden except that of the structure tree.

In the structure tree lived a mighty semicolon, who was full of the dash. The semicolon tricked Expletive into eating the forbidden fruit. Expletive in turn coaxed Adverb into eating the fruit.

God did not abbreviate his progressive actions against Adverb and Expletive. He restricted them from the garden.

As time went on, Expletive had two sonnets, whom she named Comma and Adjective. Comma, like the semicolon, was also full of the dash. One day he took his brother Adjective into the field and erased him.

Here my story ends, leaving you a dangling modifier.

—Kim Wendt

Triangles

Triangles are never ending. If you cut one in half, you get two triangles. Strange for if you cut an opinion in half, you get just half an opinion, proving that an opinion would be better with three sides—our side, their side, and the objective side.

--Cindy Haney

Poor little ant Always working and doing More than your share.

Struggling over a mountain, Bearing more weight than your Own, yet striving all the same.

You stumble countless times, But you get up and keep going On, Pushing forward eternally.

Making your small sandhill One grain at a time, always Doing good, and never bad.

As I watch you You don't know how Lucky you are, little ant.

For if you were A person, you would never Make it in this world.

---Debbie Jaffee

A Psalm

My car is my shepherd; I shall not walk.

It maketh me get stuck in white Pastures of snow.

It leadeth me beside gas stations Where I filleth her up;

It draineth my pocket.

It leadeth me along the slow paths Of the crowded highways.

Yea, though I ride through the valley Of pedestrians, I will fear no exercise.

My car is with me;

Its reclining bucket seats and 4-speed, They comfort me;

Thou annointeth my "head" with oil; My glove compartment runneth over with car-wash coupons;

Surely poverty and pollution shall follow me all my life,

And I shall dwell in the house of "repair"—Forever.

---Mike Orr

No Ordinary Noun

Once upon a time there was a small family which resided under the name of the "Noun" family. The head of the family was Doddy Noun. Daddy Noun had played football during his days and had high hopes of becoming a "Pro-noun," but his energy became restrictive, putting an end to his dreams of a future perfect.

Daddy Noun had a fine son, for whom he had high hopes also. His son would be different, not just a common noun. The present would have been perfect except for one weak reference—his son wanted to be a painter, this ambition branding him as an abstract noun.

Daddy Noun's heart was broken into a thousand fraaments, but he finally accepted the fact that his son was going to be independent. Anyway, there is no future in subjunctive mood.

—Pam Schinke

Somewhere within,
The windows of my mind—
I can see you,
Standing here before me,
And when I reach out to touch you—
The window clases and you've vanished from me,
You've left me standing out here in the cold—once more.

New English Program

ENGLISH

Freshman English identified the strengths and weaknesses of individuals. Teachers used results of eighth grade metropolitan scores and of tests taken during the first few days of school to determine what area the student needed help in. These areas included reading, writing, speech and literature. After the student achieved progress in his special assigned area, he could move to another area at irregular time periods.

Mr. H. Feltner's classes went to Toledo University to hear an Indian speaker, Russel Means, from the American Indian Movement. Reverend Pitt, from the First Baptist Church talked to A.M. #### Co-ed classes in Health don't phase frosh. They've never known anything different! The year was divided into semesters of Gym and Health, instead of the old five days of Health and five days of Gym. Gym teachers found that certain sports couldn't be played because of the weather barrier. Health teachers found themselves on a tight schedule to cover their material.

New Health books arrived in January. It's about time, the old books were so outdated! The books included studies of Anatomy, Drugs, Physical Fitness, Mental Health, First Aid, Health Services, Infectious Diseases, and Our Environment. They were well-illustrated and the students easily related to them. Some Health students did reports on consumer health and learned practical application of First Aid.

Gym classes, as a whole, tried to concentrate more on individual sports. All girls started the semester with fitness tests. Freshmen girls learned tumbling stunts, bowling, golf, archery, track, and tap dancing, along with a few other games. In addition to these, sophomore girls performed stunts on the apparatus equipment, along with complex tumbling routines. They choreographed their own modern dance programs and wore handmade Boys' Gym classes learned basic touch football, side line soccer, basketball, wrestling, tumbling, apparatus stunts, bottleball, and weight training. Sophomore classes participated in the same sports, in a more complicated form.

Becouse of a limited budget, the library was able to purchase only two hundred paperback books. "We tried to hit student's taste and interest by buying books students would like to read," commented Mr. M. Carr. Two magazine subscriptions, Cycle and Cycle World and American Baby added to the magazine selection. Posters, bought with money from fines, decorated the library. Study hall students often crowded the library. An increased number of study halls allowed more students to become library aides. T-shirts, with the emblem "DeVilbiss Book Squad" identified them.

The Chinese-Russian Library received a new group of recently written books. The library ordered the largest newspaper in Russia, Pravda. Not only TADS, but olso students from outside schools used the library.

Social Studies I ond Regional Cultural Studies alternated the Social Studies program by replacing Orientation and World History. Social Studies I introduced freshmen to economics, psychology, political science and other ospects of the world. Regional Cultural Studies emphasized the cultural developments of different regions (excluding those developments the Chinese-Russian Center concentrates on). Mr. D. Dreher and Miss L. Margy used the inquiry method to teach these courses.

Human Relations' students signed controcts as the main bosis for their grade. These controcts had a list of 25-30 services a student could perform in a quorter. Included in the list was volunteer work for orphans or people in the school. Mr. M. ### Electronics Class Runs T.V. Equipment

OCATIONAL EDUCATION

Commercial television equipment, donated by Channels 11 and 13, was in the care of electronic students. These students were in a new advanced program. Mr. Ludlum explained, "We have completed a special area of the room for a two hour advanced course in construction and repair. Students apply radio and circuit theory in repairing equipment brought in by students."

Freshmen and sophomores could take horticulture at DeVilbiss. Advanced students went to the Zoo and Horticulture Center for classes.

In Machine Shop, students performed services for other school activities where there was a need for projects to be built of metal. One of these projects was cutting metal for the set for "Bye-Bye Birdie".

Drafting classes included a two period advanced class in architectural drawing. Students designed, drew and built models to scole of homes. Many students out of this class got jobs drawing.

"Some students think home ec, is just cooking and sewing, but they find out it's more than that," commented Mrs. M. Kurt. Teachers assigned students home projects which required 45-50 hours of work. They visited the students' homes to check the projects.

Because of the gas shortage, the Board of Education told the Drivers' Ed cars to slow down to five miles below speed limits.

Practice in sliding? What could be a better way to learn to control a car in a skid. And that's exactly what they did one icy day. They found an empty parking lot and there they learned how to hold on to the wheel when the car begins to skid.

Students had classroom for three days and study hall for two. Learning how an engine runs, planning a trip, and map reading were all projects done by the students. In addition to the usual movies and slides, classes viewed the "Shell Better Driving Test" Filmstrip. This filmstrip was unique in that it asked various questions a driver should know.

The simulator trailer behind the school brought a cool relief to summer school learners. Air-conditioning and simulating actual driving conditions were two of its best assets. It was not used during the school year because of lack of time and the greater need for actual driving experience.

1. Mr. Jomes Kilcarse watches intently as the homecoming floats and court pass before him. 2. Mr. Kenneth Marris, principal, presents the 1973-74 Shoe Bowl-trophy to winning coach, Mr. Dale Pittman, 3. Mr. Thomas Moore demanstrates to his class the correct and safe way to use the drill press. 4. In the effort to raise money the Chess Team held a raffle in which the winner could throw a pie at his favorite administrator. Kathy Michaels chase Mr. Dave McClellan, 5. Mr. Gerald Anderson practices with the band, prior to an upcoming concert. 6. Mr. Ray Dembinski boards up a broken window. 7. At the Shoe Bowl Art Featherstone watches the Tigers win their victory. 8. Mr. Bud Tapola, Cross Country coach, pays for his meal in the cafeteria line. 9. Mr. Terry Wyatt checks the supports on the young trees that the science department purchased and planted.

For the first time ever the administrators prepared a cookout for the teachers on their opening day. Delicious hotdogs and tossed salads with all kinds of "fixins" delighted everyone. Administrators also served a Christmas breakfast.

During the course of the year, faculty and administrators discussed many subjects before arriving at a common viewpoint: 1, scheduling; 2, curriculum; 3, budgets for departments. Several meetings also took place for discussions on "Horizon Week," Since the school will be painted in the early fall, reachers chose colors for their classrooms.

Idministration

Changes Occur In Administration

After the death of Mr. James Kilcorse, Assistant Principal of Instruction, the "In House Help Plan" was put into effect. It consisted of Mr. Ralph Hower and Mr. Martin Vieth sharing the responsibilities of Mr. Kilcorse's office. Mr. Tom Talbott took over Mr. Vieth's morning O.W.E. classes.

The Athletic Department provided

The Athletic Department provided administrators and faculty members with four free tickets for the various sporting events. The result was that many faculty members and their families attended.

A student body of 1625, 100 fewer than last year, meant a decrease in faculty. One free classroom, across from the boys' gym, provided a hospitality center for the Boosters' Club, a storage area for equipment, and a practice room as well as a penalty hall.

With the price increase on foods, the cafeteria lunches went up to fifty-cents. Milk increased in cost over 3%, yet students paid only five-cents the entire year for both white and chocolate milks.

Paper products and partially prepared foods helped the workers prepare the many lunches each day.

In the early part of the year, a trashmasher was installed in the back of the school.

Seniors

Talking, talking, and more talking proved to be the reason senior courts were finally opened this year. Doug Ligibel and his fellow senior class officers discussed the situation with the administration intelligently instead of childishly. Together they tried to work out a "deal" which would enable us to gain back the court privileges. Mr. K. Morris felt that the senior courts were an honor earned by mature action and attitudes not just a privilege passed on to all those becoming seniors. The seniors of '73 did not prove their willingness to work with the administration and never got the courts opened last year. We showed this year we wanted to work with the administration by helping clean up the cafeteria after the lunch hours and hopefully setting an example for the underclasses. We worked with the administration instead of against them and in the early fall the senior courts were unlocked. Once the courts were opened, seniors took advantage of them by cutting across from front to back hall, lounging in the sun and talking with friends.

Last Year's

Out of the ordinary dishes, a fantastic band and a romantic setting helped the junior class dinner dance to be a success. The Sheraton Westgate was the scene of the 1973 dinner dance, Days of Wine And Roses, held on June 1st. Bids were $14.00 a couple, but seemed to be well worth it. Everyone could not get over the extensive orray of fine foods on the smorgasbord table. Roost sirloin, shrimp newburg and German potato solad seemed to be the delights that most people went back for. After everyone ate his fill, dancing to the music of Atlantic was a great way to burn off the extra calories.

After much discussion, the senior class, officers and the administration decided that New York City offered more for your money than any place else due to the numerous interesting sights. Thirty-eight seniors decided that the trip sounded like a good time. ### Seniors Voice Opinions

Seniors express their feelings about their last year at D.H.S. Jan Rizzo: I think it was a good year, especially in athletic and scholastic achievements. A better understanding of people was brought about by the Shoe Bowl victory. Academically I feel my senior year was too easy. Winning the Shoe Bowl was the pinnacle of my four years at DeVilbiss. Julie Nordhoff: Each year I feel more comfortable. Even though I am enjoying my senior year, I do not feel I am being prepared for college. Brian Ripple: My senior year was basically what I expected it to be. I have gotten to know more people and have become more involved in social activities. I've really had to put out in my subjects, but I know I won't regret it in the future. Bob Arquette: My four years at DeVilbiss have been pretty good. I feel as a senior I have had more opportunity to do whatever I set my mind to. Tom Weissbrod: The attitude of the whole school this year has not been to sit back and watch or to leave things as they were, but to set out and do, to attack problems and situations. Linda Fadden: My senior year has definitely been my best, I feel that everyone has opened up. Kids that I have grown up with through high school have all become unified. Stephanie Knowlton: I think by the time we are seniors we have matured enough to start accepting people for what they are, not for what they stand for. Since we're finding something good in everyone, we're becoming better people. Mary Whipple: I feel most of my classes this year were a waste of time. Tom Meyers: The school as a whole was more unified this year; everybody enjoys winning, and we did. Bruce Tapola: Even though many people consider the Shoe Bowl victory the most memorable event of their senior year, I myself feel that the cross country city championship was by far my most memorable. To be the underdogs is one thing, but annihilating the favored team, Bowsher, was indescribable fun. The extracurricular activities, the faculty's attitudes, and the rapidly dissolving racial problems all helped make my senior year my best. Bob Merritt: You itch the entire year to get out, but when the last month rolls around, you wish it would never end. Kathy Begley: Happy memories like the Shoe Bowl, Homecoming and Varsity Drag helped to make my senior year something to treasure. It's really been a great feeling to be a part of the class of '74. I wouldn't have given up my four years at DeVilbiss for anything.

Seniors Show High Spirits

To the kids at St. Anthony's it seemed as if the Great Pumpkin had arrived. Seniar guys danated 100 pumpkins to them for halloween. Couples boagied back to the days of be-bop and sha-na-na when the seniar class sponsored varsity drag, held on March 15. Greased-back hair guys and bobby-socked girls jitterbugged to the saunds of the past from 8:00-10:00.

The "Time Capsule" was a new idea this year. Seniors put mementas of their high school years into a large can which was sealed and buried in the senior caurt. As seniors began to turn eighteen many found Mr. Entertainer, Harry's, the Bell, and the Grotta great places to an after the games. A perfect ending far our four years at DeVilbiss was to have such winning teams in athletics.

Taking courses at DeVilbiss such os Deca, C.O.E., Cotter, horticulture, and shop gave seniors a chance to learn actual skills. Many senior girls got high-paying secretarial jobs.

Realizing the high costs for college, quite a few seniors held jobs and also kept up with their studies in order to earn money for college. High costs also caused many seniors to choose Toledo University.

Music students also showed that they were planning for the future and were determined to be ready for it. Many of them practiced for four to five hours a day. Many art students sold paintings, and planned on using the money for future art studies.

Olander Park proved a romantic setting which was much more casual than the usual Masonic Auditorium. A large brick fireplace served as the center of interest. Ook beams and stone walls added to the cozy feeling. The chilly weather, however, prevented much use of the tables set up outside, lighted by floring torches. Bowling afterwards at Imperial Lanes and then off to breokfast made Prom a night to remember.

Senior class officers decided to follow tradition by holding the 1974 Prom once again at the Masonic Auditorium.

Juniors

"Okay Juniors! This is the big spirit year for the class of '75. With the frosh and sophs still trying to find their way around school and the poor, wornout seniors overworked, it will have to be you who will carry the torch of spirit to football, basketball games, etc . . This message by Scott Snow greeted '75ers on the first day. Throughout the year their voices were heard in all events and with 380, the noise was quite a roar.

The new upperclassmen elected officers on September 26, choosing Cheryl Minor, Pres., Farley Bell, V.P., Carol Green, Sec., and Terry Fox, Treasurer. Mike Gold represented the class at government meetings.

"What you see is what you get" seemed to describe the big money raising slave sale. Bidding started at 50¢ with the highest bid being $5.00. However, a profit of $43.00 gave members incentive to schedule another for spring.

Fun projects followed the work-like Jr. Class Dance on March 26 at Heatherdowns Country Club and a cookout at vear's end.

Good Times Roll

What a gas! Although there was a lack of it, Juniors found out how handy a license can be. Registered regular D.H.S. drivers numbered 48. The class grooved on weekends at parties, concerts and movies. Pranks became easier with getaway cars. Blaring horns from mobiles driven by '75ers added more excitement to caravans. Parents' permission concerning the cars sometimes seemed to cause more hassle than gas availability. Despite an energy crisis Juniors agree that sit-athome weekends were gone and fun was where you found it.

Insight to Future

Mrs. S. Bowers and Mr. R. Baggs, class advisors, at the request of Beta, a national scholastic organization, conducted a survey among Juniors. In January, sixty students answered questions concerning what they plan for the future. The class indicated what colleges and types of work they preferred.

A greater percentage of juniors took the P.S.A.T. on October 23. Students take these to get an idea of what college boards are like.

Classes juniors preferred this year were A.M. English, which included trips to the museum twice a month, and fine arts courses. When asking '75ers what their biggest accomplishment was, most smiled and said, "passing Chemistry."

Juniors Jobs are 'a Must'

College and independence quickly were approaching and inflation was working against everyone. Juniors concentrated on adding money to bank accounts with parttime jobs. Jobs ranged from food services to machine mechanics. Most earned the minimum wage of $1.60 an hour. Despite the red tape, 16 year olds had to get a work permit.

Participation was the key to success with the sophomere class the year. The school administration, the teachers, and the class officers placed more responsibility on the students shoulders and they really come through well. Students are looking forward to graduating with four great years behind them, and every activity is geared toward accomplishing this goal. Many feel pride as the should be a the school of 76 echo loyder than an a hard out it school pep assemblies. A good year or Devilous was a great year for the sophomores.

OMORES ·

Activities for the sophomore class began with the election of officers in the second month of school. Officers and class members got right to work and invalved themselves in school activities. Under Kathy Shafer's guiding hand many helped build a homecoming float which won a prize of $2.50 to add to their treasury. New ideas in fund raising brought successful results. Sucker sales were a booming business. In one day busy salesmen sold as many as 600 sweet and sour pops for a dime each. Sophamores sold T-shirts in football jersey style with '76 written on them. They also sold lined jackets bearing the DHS insignia. Signs posted in the halls advertised even extra-large sizes for fatties, and smalls for slim-jims.

Finding themselves a little older and a little wiser than they were last year, this year's upper-underclassmen tested their new freedoms and privileges with enthusiasm. The students tried to organize the class and really got involved with the school in every way that they could. Some students found themselves looking down on the freshmen, forgetting last year when they too were looking for the elevators and the fourth floor swimming pool. As sophomores they were above all that now. Officers organized fund-roising octivities and before long the treasury held more than $150 to be used to finance a Cedar Point trip in the spring and for their senior and junior activities.

SOPHOMORES Fun Found By 79ers

Ambitiaus sophamores excelled in a variety of things this year. Moments of pride were when sophomores won prizes during the candy sale, learned to drive, had lead ports in the musical and in Deviltries, collected $25 for the Kilcourse Memorial Fund, made the most noise at the pep assemblies, but the best of all they knew their way around. Combining fun and work was a successful combination for the class of '76.

Two Down Two To Go

Well they made it, halfway through high school. The class of '76 found themselves on the way to a very profitable four years at DeVilbiss. Their success was primarily due to the unbeatable work force of the class officers and the class advisors Mr. Roy Martin and Mrs. Nedra Outram. The advisors took an active interest in all saphomore class plans and served an important service in the communication between the school administration and the students. The goal for the class will make the next two years just as good or better than the first two years.

Students Awaken

Learning a new way of life! Coming into high school from a place that's so different! What do many freshmen say? "The teachers are people, they're fun to be with and you can joke around with them." Students enjoyed the freedom of high school. "In grade school, you were always watched so closely, and constantly being yelled at and treated like a first grader. Here at DeVilbiss, you're treated more grown up. I like the freedom that they give you in the halls." Another student reacted towards his fellow students. "I love meeting new people."

Besides social differences, there are also academic differences. When a frosh was asked about his classes, he replied, "I think my freshman year is a lot easier, but I know I'm learning more."

It's Time—Act Now

Sports, Magazine Drive, Plays! Freshmen participated in many school activities.

Playing sports is what Ronny Jones enjoyed. Ronny quoted his opinion of DeVilbiss sports. "I got a lot out of playing football, the running was hard though."

How about the magazine drive? Ruthann Manders found most of her success with selling subscriptions with people she knew. She sold one to her dentist, and five magazine subscriptions to her family.

The Play in December gave freshmen opportunity to be a part of the school. Kathy Musker was ready to perform opening night. "I was so excited to get out on stage, I could hardly wait to entertain!" Patsy Slowinski explained it was her first time on stage, and she loved how everyone worked together.

Freshmen Reminisce

What could you say about your freshman year in high school? The class of '77 had a lot to say about their first year at DeVilbiss. They had become a class with interest and concern for the school which held the motto, 'Orange and Black, the Tigers are back."

"It was some year! I really grew to love DeVilbiss." "It was something new, it introduced you to a new way of life." "I met a lot of nice people, our class had lots of nice people in it." "It was good how everyone seems to get along at De-

Fly Me To The Berlin Wall?

Polkas and German hamecooking livened up the second annual German Festival. Because of a ruling against having food in the classrooms, a section of the cafeteria suddenly became a German restaurant—dance floor included. Using money from last year's festival and the $460.00 made this year, the cost of the trip to Germany decreased considerably per student.

Performances Make Black History Week

Janis Harris sings during Black History Week. Intent on the music, Guy Douglas keeps time.

Popcorn ball sales and a chicken dinner brought in a little spending money for various activities. Having fun as a group included a bowling party and a trip to Cedar Point.

A few problems first semester kept the choir from singing until the middle of January. Use of Redeemer Lutheran Church for rehearsals every Tuesday night got things started.

Black History Week and the Senior Talent Show gave the kids the opportunity to perform at D.H.S.

The choir sang at various Toledo area churches in the winter and planned an out of town tour during the summer.

Also in April, most of the guys drove to Columbus for a Youth and Government meeting. Kids from all over Ohio set up a model legislature in the capital building to discuss bills they would like to see passed. Hi-Y worked for signals at every railroad crossing.

Making the scene at Kathy Begley's house promised an evening of fun and general chaos. What happened when twenty girls got together for a Christmas party? There had to be the usual exchange of gifts, but also the playing of unusual games. A Saturday in December found some of the airls wrapping presents for children stricken with Multiple Sclerosis. Gifts of food helped to make a needy family's Christmas a little merrier.

Selling Valentine's Day carnations helped the underclass earn money for Senior Banquet.

Seven o'clock on a Saturday rolled around mighty fast for the second semester voting meeting. After kidnapping the new members, everyone ate breakfast at Uncle John's Pancake House.

I-Da-Ka and Pay-a-el-sa combined efforts in order to have the best Spring formal possible. With Olander Park as the site, couples danced to the light of candles and a log fire.

Monthly newsletters have kept members aware of what to plan ahead for. The result has been a better than average attendance for club activities.

Baking cakes, making spirit signs, and attending the girl's basketball games let our team know that someone took an interest in them.

"The Sting", attracted droves of people to the Showcase Cinemas—including Jr. Sorelles. The agreement of those who attended the movie boiled down to one sigh: Robert Redford is a real hunk!

Lunch at McDonald's provided an escape for oent up nervous energy after the crammina and worry of exams. With food still on their minds, the airls ate breakfast at Uncle John's Pancake House after their second semester votina meeting.

Selling St. Patrick's Day carnations earned the club enough money to pay for their page in the club section of the yearbook.

Daing the unusual seemed to be Sorelles' theme. Sports and groups not usually in the limelight received special attention. Bulletin boards decorated for the chess and soccer teams lined the back hall. Attention also focoused on the football team. A sign with a rhyme using all the team members names encircled all the halls on the first floor.

Christmas vacation provided the perfect opportunity for a wild slumber party. A few of the girls also attended the Youth Orchestra Concert.

Spring efforts centered mainly on an open dance held at the Close Park Shelterhouse. An unnamed band pravided solid walls of sound.

Biggest Club Keeps Girls Busy

Taking koal-aid for the cross country team to every meet started the year off at a good pace. A hayride at Douglas Meadows in the fall proved to be cold but fun. In November, after the new members got in, a slumber party and formal inductions followed. Christmastime was a busy one for Pay members. As a money-making project they sold Christmas carnations. They also sponsored a Christmas Dance which was held at Laurel Hill Country Club and was open to the school. Alumni Tea and a Christmas caroling party were also over winter vacation. Their Christmas window won 2nd place. Pay-a-el-sa is the biggest club at DeVilbiss and 15 new freshmen increased the already large membership. A private dance apen anly to Pay and Idaka members in March, another slumber party, and a Senior Banquet ended the year successfully.

At formal inductions new members take their oaths befare afficers Sarah Reiser, Missy Knight, and Heidi Vandivart.

Peries Jakes Orphans to DHS Basketball Game

Linda Bassa marks her ballot sheet but Denise Whitaker can't make up her mind at the Peries voting meeting.

Peries couldn't wait for school to open to begin their services. During the summer they washed and painted 80 classroom waste baskets orange and black. Selling Thanksgiving Day carnations, sponsoring popcorn ball and condy apple sales, and having a fruit pie sale for the teachers provided plenty of money for the year's expenses. A big-little sis Christmas Party was a fun ending for '73. The new year began by taking 8 orphans from St. Anthony's Villa to a DeVilbiss basketball game and having a pizza party afterward in a church basement. As a literary society Peries attended a few plays and movies. After surprising the new members on a Sunday morning they had doughnuts and juice at the president's house to get to know them a little better.

Juniors Lead Club Events

Since the club was without any seniors to lead them, the juniors had to carry the load. Early in the fall, OA sold Homecoming mums. They gave tray favors to the teachers throughout the year on holidays. Before a February meeting the girls went to Shakeys Pizza Parlor for dinner. They held a slumber party for the new members in March and had an Alumni Tea in April for all the members from previous years to meet the present members. A biglittle sis picnic in the spring brought everyone out for a good time.

COE won 1st prize for their Homecoming float for the second year in a row. They attended a few business conferences, a leadership conference in Lima and an elections conference in Bowling Green. As fund-raisers they had bakesales and had a Christmas Sole in which they sold Christmas kits. These netted around $500. Also at Christmas time they went out to breakfast at Uncle John's Pancoke House and had a gift exchange. They decided to go out to breakfast whenever they had extra money in the treasury. In the spring they had an employer-employee banquet.

Barb Carr uses the adding machine to solve a problem in her text book.

OE girls show that school work can be fun too while planning their trip to Lima. They are meeting at the conference toble in the new faculty launge.

DECA Develops Future Leaders

This has been the most successful year for DeVilbiss DECA by far, according to advisor Mr. Russell Brock. Before he came to DHS last year there had never been a winner of state competition. Sue Regester placed 1st in Parliamentary Law at state in Morch. The Creative Marketing Project headed by Dave Dalton got 2nd in the state. Bob Merritt and Lynn Wilkins made the top 10 in advertising and current marketing topics in state competition. Lynn Wilkins was also runner-up for state treasurer. Guest speakers in class, field trips, and an employer-employee banquet were some club events.

DECA students hurry to meet their deadline, while those who are done relax.

Girls Enjoy More Riding

Riding at Douglas Meadows twice a month was the main activity of the club. They used to ride at Howard Stables but decided to change. They had informal and formal inductions in November and February for new members. They made spirit signs for different sports events and gave the teachers favors for several holidays. Several meetings and slumber parties were enjoyed throughout the year. In the spring they could do more riding and had some carwashes for expenses.

Students Excel in Weekend Journaments

In the beginning of the year NFL had a "Kiddy Movie" on a Saturday morning in the auditorium for children to come see. For fund raising prajects they had bakesales at Kragers and sold pocket calendars. In tournament competition Dale Radunz and Jeff King excelled in Humoraus Interpretation, Barb Bellg and Ray Byers—Oratorical Interpretation, Sue Hinkle—Original Oratory, Rick Michael—Dramatics, Mark Walden, David Squire, Melanie Pertcheck, and Eileen Bradner—Bays and Girls Extemporaneous Speaking. Everyone did well but these students were exceptionally agood.

New Organizer Revives Spirit

A late start prevented Debutantes from participating in many activities. Sue Krieg, organizer, obtained a club charter for the second semester. The girls had formal inductions February 24. A collection of canned goods for the Red Cross helped hungry families. Members who didn't have to work had lunch at Farrell's one day after school.

Stacy Lipe and Sharan Gradwell induct Laurie Lampert.

Classes changed in length from 60 minutes to 50 minutes. School began at 8:15 a.m. and ended at 3:15 p.m. Although most students had finished by 2:20, some study halls were necessary. Seniors found it difficult to came 15 minutes earlier and sad to leave 20 minutes later. The change over to activity schedule, which did not take all of the time from the 2nd haur class, was an improvement. However, students with jobs ran into a time problem on days we had activities, since they did not get out of school until 12:55.

As the energy crisis brought Daylight Savings time, students found themselves coming to school in the dark. National events such as: the paper shortage, gas shortage, Watergate, and college streaking affected DHS students.

Coaches, athletes, and the student body worked together to produce #1 teams. Academic efforts also received emphasis and recognition.

Negotiations played a prominent role in many situations. Administrators, faculty, and talked over solutions to problems, and together worked them out. After the death of the Assistant Principal-Instructor, other administrators took on added duties.
